"Creating light is more about playing in the dark..."

May 2 and 3
9AM-5PM

Boston Community Center Boston, GA

Take your painting to the next level with this two-day Bringing Light To Landscapes workshop. You will learn how to capture light and how to achieve captivating glows within your pieces while using your own photographs as reference. We'll explore basic elements of design—color, composition and depth—along with observation techniques, painting materials, and safe studio practices. Each day will include a demonstration at the beginning of class followed by individual attention catered to your own oil/acrylic skill level. See Steven's work at stevenwalkerstudios.com.
