

Artists and Autism: How I See the World

A Virtual Exhibition Celebrating
Autism Awareness Month April 2021

Call for Art

Florida State University Autism Institute and Center for Autism and Related Disabilities (FSU CARD) partners with the Leon County Public Library and Arts4All Florida to present “Artists and Autism: How I See the World,” a virtual exhibition featuring works of art by people with autism and related disabilities.

Individuals of all ages with autism and related disabilities throughout the Big Bend Region and the Panhandle of Florida are invited to submit art for this exhibition that will be displayed on the Leon County Public Library website.

LEROY COLLINS
LEON COUNTY
PUBLIC LIBRARY

FSU CARD is dedicated to providing individuals with autism or related disabilities, their families, and professionals who work with them, free consultation, resources, and educational support to build knowledge, confidence, infrastructure, and sustainability within the community.

To register, please go to:

<https://tinyurl.com/artistsandautism>

For any inquiry, please contact: Allison Leatzow at aleatzow@fsu.edu

Submission Deadline is March 15th