Memorial to the Enslaved

REQUEST FOR DESIGN PROPOSALS

Mission

The Goodwood Museum & Gardens Memorial to the Enslaved will serve as a lasting tribute to those individuals, named and unnamed, who lived and toiled in bondage here and to their descendants.

Vision

Goodwood Museum & Gardens Memorial to the Enslaved is a sacred and contemplative place that brings together descendants, the community, and partners to educate, remember, and honor cultures and traditions to promote healing in the present and serve as inspiration for equality and social justice in the future.

Project Description

Goodwood Museum & Gardens, a former plantation, proposes to install a memorial to all people enslaved on the property from approximately 1832 until 1865. A permanent outdoor memorial site has been chosen on a half-acre space adorned with several large live oaks and a bank of azaleas. The memorial will list the names of known enslaved persons, and will be a site for sober contemplation and remembrance. It will also be a site for meeting, teaching, community engagement, and healing. At its largest extent, Goodwood included about 8,000 non-contiguous acres; its several owners enslaved at least 200 people in the mid-1800s. Today, Goodwood encompasses 21 acres and serves the community as a museum, a community green space, and a venue for public and private events.

Goodwood is engaging the community in the development of the memorial. As part of this, we are inviting people to submit designs for the memorial. A $1,000 honorarium will be awarded to the artist whose design is selected through a juried process, and the artist will be credited at the memorial site. The final design selected for the Memorial to the Enslaved will become the sole property of Goodwood Museum & Gardens.
