

Introduction to Cat

Cats are graceful and brave. Because of their miniature dimensions they try to avoid predators. However, they will stand up to protect themselves if needed from creatures of almost any size and nature. The main tactic is diplomatic approach to scare predators by snarling and then, in extreme situations, scratching, and/or biting them. One of the most fascinating facts about cats is their endless demand for attention, usually on desirable and convenient terms of their own. A lasting begging look and, a gentle touch of the paw followed by a soft meow make this sultry feline irresistible to all.

Cat

I want to be a cat,
Gain the toys they juggle.
Never combat,
Never struggle
Flip, like an acrobat,
But live in the bubble
Of love and a compliment spot.
