FY24CG- Florida State University 1 $89,000
30

The Challenger Learning Center has very limited space and ability to rotate new exhibits through our exhibit hall. Our main exhibit area currently includes a satellite map of Florida that is roughly 40 ft tall by 40 ft wide. The map was installed when the center opened more than 20 years ago. It is now faded and peeling – as well as the satellite image view of our state is no longer accurate and would be quite costly to replace with another static image that will soon become outdated again. We have an unique opportunity to convert this large, vertical exhibit space into a digital display of fresh, up to date STEAM content that can be updated as frequently as desired. This exhibit will be used to provide supplemental content and imagery to support our current educational offerings as well as creating new highly inspirational programming for both our students and the general public.

Connecting people with Florida's multicultural past can transform the way we live today. That transformation is our passion, our dramatic mission. FY24CTMG-18 The Tallahassee Bach Parley, Inc. 3 $2,700

The French word “parley” means discussion; a vital element of each concert is the commentary by our Music Director, which provides historical context for the composers and compositions and offers suggestions about what to listen for in the music. These conversational remarks create a relaxed concert atmosphere and bridge the gap that often exists between the audience and the performers. Our enthusiasm for this repertoire is contagious and draws people in. The audience experience combines entertainment, education, and a family-like community. In the 2023–2024 season, we plan to present three main series performances with open dress rehearsals Saturdays and concerts on Sundays, both at 3:00 PM at St. John’s Episcopal Church, on these dates: November 11 & 12, 2023 February 3 & 4, 2024 June 1 & 2, 2024 We will also present twelve Friday noontime “Bach’s Lunch” concerts, a new program to encourage donations to our need-based scholarship fund for the Bach Parley String Academy.

FY24CTMG-29 Florida State University 1 $3,000

The Challenger Learning Center has very limited space and ability to rotate new exhibits through our exhibit hall. Our main exhibit area currently includes a satellite map of Florida that is roughly 40 ft tall by 40 ft wide. The map was installed when the center opened more than 20 years ago. It is now faded and peeling – as well as the satellite image view of our state is no longer accurate and would be quite costly to replace with another static image that will soon become outdated again. We have an unique opportunity to convert this large, vertical exhibit space into a digital display of fresh, up to date STEAM content that can be updated as frequently as desired. This exhibit will be used to provide supplemental content and imagery to support our current educational offerings as well as creating new highly inspirational programming for both our students and the general public.
